19th March 2007 1500th run actual bar the usual waffle inside!). Expect top notch Curry Night. Celebration proper to follow... eventually!

HAPPY NEW YEAR EVERYBODY!

And welcome to 007, the year of Brighton Hash 1500th run...

As it stands I think the plan is to have a good ole curry nosh night after the 1500th run proper and have a Saturday or Sunday run celebration shortly after, as it's Mothers Day on the weekend immediately prior. Watch this space!

Thanks to Rik for organising the Christmas Party and his DJ'ing. Cries for injury time after all the gaps in the continuity were sadly ignored by the management. Also thanks Louis for the run. Lights, and the mulled sip were sorely missed but difficult to set-up in the rural location. Be nice to see them back next year wherever we run. Finally, thanks to Hash cash for the beer and wine contributions. I think the popular cry was for more beer, and it did seem that 36 pints was nowhere near enough especially as we had twice that in past years, but it will mean a reduction in the funded wine! Again, next year we'll need to address that.

Awards this year went to Wiggy and Knickola as respective sex hash personality awards, and Old Les for barfly of the year. After winning for the 3rd year he now becomes the official hash barfly and gets to keep the current award ad infinitum. At last PIssti and Teabar received their long-overdue wedding gifts of an engraved hip flask and wine and it was good to see them joining us again. As usual a cracking job by the much-missed Greyhound Niel on a return visit! My apologies if the beer addled memory has forgotten anyone!

Other than our own 1500th celebration there are loads of other events this year as per the calendar listings. GB hosts not only our own Nash Hash in August (Bond theme, naturally!), but also Eurohash for the first time and even (following a drunken debate in which it was decided that Orkney and Shetland were definitely Viking and therefore Scandinavian) the Interscandinavian hash!

Before all that we celebrate our fifth Burns night hash this month. As usual this will be a kilted run, so please get into the spirit of it and wear something tartan even if you've only got a tart'n trouble! Also as per, we will be having post-run nosh hopefully to include haggis (meat or vegetarian options), tatties, neeps and some extra roast veg, and including options for coeliacs and Wiggy!

Finally, I've been asked about the "rate this hash" seen on the internet by people with quivering lower lips as their runs got a lower than anticipated star rating. I wasn't aware of this but now understand from Louis that all that is being rated is the pub, which should prove useful for future reference!

Staff at the national tourism agency VisitBritain have been left scratching their heads at some of the questions posed to them this year.

These include such clangers as: "Are there any lakes in the Lake District?" And: "Is Wales closed during the winter?"

Half a million holidaymakers every year drop by the information office of national tourism agency VisitBritain seeking advice on how best to use their time in the UK.

At the Britain & London Visitor Centre on Regent Street in London's West End one visitor wanted to know: "What is the entry fee for Brighton?"

Another asked: "Do you have any information on (former Page 3 girl) Samantha Fox?"

Unimpressed by the planning behind royal homes, one tourist wanted to know: "Why on earth did they build Windsor Castle on the flight path of Heathrow?"

And taking the name of London Underground stations perhaps too literally, another person asked: "Can you tell me who performs at the circus in Piccadilly?"

Other geographically-challenged queries included: "What Tube line runs to Edinburgh?"

Encounters could be just as strange north of the border at the help centres of VisitScotland, where questions from tourists included: "What time does the midnight train leave?", "Which bus do I get from the Orkney Islands to the Shetland Islands?", and

"Is Edinburgh in Glasgow?"

Some of the other daft questions posed to VisitScotland staff included: "Can you tell me where the mountain is in Scotland?", "Are there any curves in the roads here, or are they all straight?", and "Are there any Sheena Easton museums in Glasgow?"

Another tourist wanted to know: "What time of night does the Loch Ness monster surface and who feeds it?"

A couple was on their honeymoon, lying in bed, about ready to consummate their marriage, when the new bride says to the husband, "I have a confession to make, I'm not a virgin."

The husband replies, "That's no big thing in this day and age."

The wife continues, "Yeah, I've been with one guy."

"Oh yeah? Who was the guy?"

"Tiger Woods."

"Tiger Woods, the golfer?"

"Yeah."

"Well, he's rich, famous and handsome. I can see why you went to bed with him."

The husband and wife then make passionate love. When they are done, the husband gets up and walks to the telephone.

"What are you doing?" asks the wife.

The husband says, "I'm hungry, I was going to call room service and get something to eat."

"Tiger wouldn't do that."

"Oh yeah? What would Tiger do?"

"He'd come back to bed and do it a second time."

The husband puts down the phone and goes back to bed to make love a second time.

When they finish, he gets up and goes over to the phone.

"Now what are you doing?" she asks.

The husband says, "I'm still hungry so I was going to get room service to get something to eat."

"Tiger wouldn't do that."

"Oh yeah? What would Tiger do?"

"He'd come back to bed and do it again."

The guy slams down the phone, goes back to bed, and makes love one more time.

When they finish he's tired and beat. He drags himself over to the phone and starts to dial.

The wife asks, "Are you calling room service?"

"No! I'm calling Tiger Woods, to find out what the par is for this damn hole."

'Our chef's speciality is chicken cooked in Lemsip'

'I just need a peccage for my husband and I'll have finished my Christmas shopping'

'It gets worse. One of our chickens just drew this cartoon of the Prophet Mohammed'

'I owe your mother an apology'

'I'm terribly sorry, I've locked myself out again'

'Oi, take my dinner money, or else'

'Ruth Kelly lives somewhere round here'

'You have been awarded planetary status'

'Are you carrying any hair gel or baby milk?'

AWAY IN A STRANGE LAND

(With apologies to Away in a Manger)

Away in a strange land	Back in his own country
A Frenchman saw red	Poll thought he'd be king
When midfield God Zizou	But everyone hammered
Brought down his bald head	The poor Thing from Tring.

Floodlights in the bright sky
Shone down on his dome	Away in a strange land
As Marco cried buckets	The WAGS hit the town
And ZZ went home.	Ignoring their menfolk

Away in a strange land	The champagne was guzzled
A nod and a wink	The shops were cleared out
Put paid to Wayne Rooney	They all wore the trousers
And caused a great stink	Of that there's no doubt

Ronaldo was heckled	Back home in old blighty
From Oxford to Crewe	The inquests began
But Fergie played cupid	As Sven put his feet up
To fix Ron and Roo.	And topped up his tan

Away in a strange land	Big Mac took the baton
Three yellows were shown	With Tel on the staff
And all to the same bloke	They've promised us great things
So Graham Poll went home	They're having a laugh.

Since Sunday evening the whole World has been debating what Italian Defender Marco Materazzi said to Zinedine Zidane to make the retiring Frenchman React the way he did. The French captain, in his last ever professional game, thrust his head into Materazzi's chest in Sunday's World Cup Final Resulting in a red card and shame for Zidane.

Today, with the help of Italian lip-reader Arturo Belladini, we can Reveal what drove Zidane to self destruct. Materazzi was seen to hold Zidane's shirt on the edge of the penalty box in extra-time at which point Zidane said, "If you want my shirt so bad you can have it." Materazzi responded, "I don't want your shirt, you m f. You're a f old man." As they jog away Zidane is seen to laugh at this and it is unclear how He responded as his back was to the TV camera. Materazzi then hit a volley Of abuse, "You should've quit 2 years ago, you're a f has-been". "M f! Your mum is a f Muslim terrorist and you are too. F you, old man, f you. Old man, this arena is not for you anymore m f." Zidane carries on jogging away.

"You are only good enough for the English squad now." It's at this very Point Zidane turned and head-butted him.

"The young Englishman prepares for McGraths next delivery!"

This guy had what he thought was a great tattoo... until he was sent to prison. Now he's...

THE MOST POPULAR GUY IN PRISON
