R-ns /trash #291 – December 2020

Find us on  facebook or at <http://www.brightonhash.co.uk/>

All directions/ timings are estimated and start from Patcham roundabout at the A23/A27 junction, unless indicated otherwise.

We are currently operating under tier 2 restrictions, which mean we can exercise in groups of up to 6. However, we can only purchase alcohol in a pub with a substantial meal, and should remain in family bubbles when inside. We can sit in groups of up to 6 outside, but must still purchase a substantial meal. Understandably, given that the social element is limited, we anticipate a smaller turnout than usual, so for the foreseeable future the spreadsheet will be provisional with a final decision, depending on numbers, being made on the Friday before on whether to proceed with the hash.

Frustratingly stringent tier measures being imposed on much of the country, including our run area in Sussex make it very difficult to plan what will happen over coming weeks. The first review is due to take place on 16th December and we can only keep our fingers crossed that they allow us to return at least to the Tier 1 restrictions we had before. We are actually allowed to meet as a group of six at a pub as long as we stay outside, which is not the most desirable scenario at this time of year, but does mean that, if we are able to continue pod-hashing, hares should be keeping their eyes open for establishments with outside seating, and heating for eating. As per the front page, numbers will be reviewed on the Friday before to ensure there is sufficient to warrant the hare laying a trail, so please book early. It may be that we have to revert to the bubbles we had at several locations earlier in the year.

Zoom hashes will continue for anyone fancying a chat, although there are no quizzes advertised at the moment.

On on!

Tales from the rank:

Hi all,

I have another sash (solo hash) trail, for your enjoyment/exasperation, during lockdown 2. The link to view the new trail, is:

<https://explore.echoes.xyz/collections/rFHeO1qVK3XnJ3Mz>

It's from outside The Downs Hotel in Woodingdean, BN2 6BB. The trail is likewise possessed of the new sound effects and announcements. And has a 'circle' of one, or per your household / bubble / plus-one.

For the unencumbered, visible on your phone are the start/end square, and four circles showing the initial direction. Your phone audibly 'echoes' blobs, checks, etc, when in the vicinity. There's a r*nners and w*lkers route. For this trail, find enroute the 'r*nners this way' echo or 'w*lkers this way' echo.

To r*n or w*lk the trail, grab the free shaky ECHOES app from the Android/iPhone appstore, if you haven't already. Just search in the appstore for 'echoes'. The icon looks a bit like a fingerprint. And proceed per the waffle at the above link.

To view all of the sash trails, head to <https://explore.echoes.xyz/>, scroll down to the ‘Find your next adventure’ box, type sash, and press Enter.

- No Nativity this year because the 3 Wise Men face a travel ban. The shepherd has been furloughed. The Inn keeper has shut under tier 3 regulations and had a slump in bookings. Santa won't be working as he would break the rule of 6 with Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Donner and Blitzen. As for Rudolph, with that red nose, he should be isolating and taking a test.
- What do you do if you see a spaceman? You park your car, man!
- **always fancied being a spaceman at Tesco's, just for the CV! And the girls.*
- My kids said they want a cat for Christmas. Normally I do a turkey, but hey, if it makes them happy.
- Santa's sleigh broke down on Xmas eve He flagged down a passing motorist and said "Can you give me a hand?" "Sorry", the motorist said "I'm not a mechanic, I'm a chiropodist". "Well then can you give me a toe?"
- I just bought a new perfume called 'Christmas Donkey'. It's by Christian D'Eyore.

REZOOMING the Hash...

Zoom #19 – Wilds Thing's Sci-Fi films quiz (3rd time lucky!)

Having fallen prey to popular opinion on his first attempt and presenting a quiz on beers that appears to have been confined to the annals of hashtory, then getting called away for a family emergency at the second time of asking, Wilds Thing finally got to share his sci-fi films quiz with us, and I for one had been looking forward to it! And what good entertainment it was even though WT's youth meant that we were frequently flummoxed by the strange names appearing in the options, quite apart from the questions themselves. My notes seem to be silent on the eventual winner but I can say with absolute certainty that it was not I, and I suspect it was not Where's My Broccoli either, since there were 3 questions that came close to receiving 100% correct, and in all three hers was the errant answer, bless her! Before all that we'd heard how Bushsquatter had been mugging the homeless for their clothes, and my agent has asked me to clarify that she did not literally 'mug' them but did take her pick from donations of stuff deemed unsuitable for them. Roaming Pussy found the best backdrop with the emotions of a stormtrooper, and Gromit had us all intrigued by his brain book for writing stuff down rather than risking an overcrowded filing system in his noggin. In other conversation Roaming and WMB told us about their adventures on Dangleberry's latest Echoes hash from the Fountain in Plumpton – when a werewolf allegedly told them it was a false trail, but they proceeded to get lost anyway. Bushsquatter kept dragging us back to contemplation of the infinite as she gave us an aural guided tour of the funerals and burial places of her extended family, which the story told me by Wiggy's wife Sue about Arthur Brown (of the Crazy World of Arthur Brown fame and whom she knows from her school days) becoming a lay-celebrant at funerals failed to detract her. Actually the worst part of that whole story was a Wiggy embellishment, suggesting that it was so that he could sing his hit whenever anyone gets cremated (Fire! Ba-de-ba, I'll take you to burn. Please.)! There was more stuff about KIU inadvertently becoming a Beta tester on Apple, talk about Remembrance week, and decorating advice for Roaming Pussy, but sadly lost in the awful joke that the quiz winners would only get stardom, while there was an outside chance of a star map for the losers as a constellation prize! Sorry, not sorry. Another great Zoom hash!

Rehashing the Sci-Fi films quiz – Answers next issue:

REZOOMING the Hash...

Zoom 20 – Bogeyman’s birthday, anniversary quiz The second lockdown messed up plans for the third Bogeyman memorial fancy dress r*n, but on the bright side saved us having to work out some convoluted way of dressing up whilst minimising contact and not drawing too much attention to ourselves, which may well have been doomed to failure! Another bonus was the chance to experience a quiz by Roaming, with help from Katie and Laura, veterans of many a successful Zoom quiz over the lockdowns if the little bird we’ve been listening to is correct. The theme was ‘Green’, based on the colour associated with nose-waste aka bogeys in the finest playground tradition, and we were treated to a fiendish set of questions, anagrams, and pictures, but without the life saver of the lucky guess that MyQuiz permits. The enduring memory of Bogeyman was evident in the large turnout, our best since the very first Zoom way back in April, and especially noticeable were our visitors from W&NK H3/ EGH3, as well as the girls. Most seemed to have made an effort with fancy dress given the small area we had available to present ourselves although Scud was almost invisible behind the Codhead. As ever Dangleberry’s effort was also notable as he wore a beer head. The quiz was all good fun, but marking was on an honesty basis and the sounds coming over as the answers were given out matched those as the questions had been put up earlier, a heady mix of not having a clue, as much as getting them wrong! We’d been prevailed upon to bring an ice-cream to the show and by all accounts most people did, producing them for the intermission, however, my lack of tech failed to cotton on to restoring the gallery view so that we could actually see what people had got! So what, we all had fun, even if the anagrams came while many of us were still suffering brain freeze, so I have no idea who emerged victorious!

In other banter we got a glimpse of Laura’s new flat before we got distracted by news of dinosaurs in Hassocks, trumping Henfield’s rampant peacocks; helped Trouble with her homework; and got a run-down of lockdown from the French perspective courtesy of Happy Ending. Jenny enthusiastically went on to entice us all into a joint BH7/ Toulouse H3 summer tour next year, taking in either Killer Hill Norway (mostly full) or Corfu hash cruise at the end of May, Interscandi Hash near Tallin in July, and finishing with Eurohash in Prague in August. Hmm. How nice would it be just to hear those magical words, “This is your captain speaking”, but I think we’ll have to sit tight a little longer before booking that lot! After the usual and excellent Wildbush funnies came a bit of info about next week’s St. Andrews Day Scottish quiz which led rapidly to a whisky show and tell, a very impressive collection being produced by Keeps It Up, while Wilds Thing related some story about his Speyside whisky, which I shall be able to enjoy again at a future re-telling as I’ve completely forgotten how it went, doh! There was inevitably, a lot of talk about how we can best re-boot the hash, and how we can have some form of celebration at Christmas, but the point of the lockdown was still emphasised, to keep us safe and minimise risk of exposure to this bloody virus. And so we heard how Cyst Pit and Radio Soaps’s son Coff, aka Vinnie, given that they are both key workers, had continued to attend school throughout the lockdown, and indeed the holidays, but was finally beaten when his school year was shut down by a case. CP had to take time off to parent, but it was only when Cathy received a phone call from the school asking why Vinnie wasn’t there that they found out they hadn’t picked up the e-mail advising he could return, doh! again. Wilds Thing caused much mirth when discussing his latest running route, informing us that care was required as horses had been going to the bathroom on it! Oh how we laughed at his ‘properness’! Another great Zoom hash!

Funnies from old Church Bulletins – thanks to the days of Church ladies with typewriters. These sentences actually appeared in Church Bulletins or were announced at Church Services.

- ❖ The eighth-graders will be presenting Shakespeare's Hamlet in the church basement on Friday at 7 PM. The congregation is invited to attend this tragedy.
- ❖ Next Thursday there will be tryouts for the choir. They need all the help they can get.
- ❖ Weight Watchers will meet at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. Please use large double doors at the side entrance.
- ❖ Low Self-Esteem Support Group will meet Thursday at 7:00 to 8.30 p.m. Please use the back door.
- ❖ The Associate Minister unveiled the church's new tithing campaign slogan last Sunday: "I Upped My Pledge – Up Yours."
- ❖ Miss Charlene Mason sang 'I will not pass this way again,' giving obvious pleasure to the congregation.
- ❖ The Fasting & Prayer Conference includes meals.
- ❖ Scouts are saving aluminium cans, bottles and other items to be recycled. Proceeds will be used to cripple children.
- ❖ For those of you who have children and don't know it, we have a nursery downstairs.
- ❖ At the evening service tonight, the sermon topic will be 'What Is Hell?' Come early and listen to our choir practice.
- ❖ 8 new choir robes are currently needed, due to the addition of several new members and to the deterioration of some older ones.
- ❖ The Pastor would appreciate it if the ladies of the congregation would lend him their electric girdles for the pancake breakfast next Sunday.
- ❖ The sermon this morning: 'Jesus Walks on the Water.' The sermon tonight: 'Searching for Jesus.'
- ❖ Potluck supper Sunday at 5:00 PM - prayer and medication to follow.
- ❖ The church will host an evening of fine dining, superb entertainment and gracious hostility.
- ❖ The ladies of the Church have cast off clothing of every kind. They may be seen in the basement on Friday afternoon.
- ❖ Ladies, don't forget the rummage sale. It's a chance to get rid of those things not worth keeping around the house. Bring your husbands.
- ❖ This evening at 7 P.M. there will be a hymn singing in the park across from the Church. Bring a blanket and come prepared to sin.
- ❖ Don't let worry kill you off - let the Church help.

SASH – SOLO HASH – ECHOES TRAILS

Who knew that we'd be able to hash using just sounds to tell us if we were on trail, at a check, fishhook, even sip stops, and now with the all new whistles and bells, even have a circle up! Thanks to the genius of Dangleberry and the somewhat shaky but way better than nothing app Echoes, it is now possible. Once created the trail is there in the atmosphere, or maybe just your smart or iphone, to have a go whenever you want, although daylight is recommended. And we also suggest taking a beer with you! To view all of the sash trails, head to <https://explore.echoes.xyz/>, scroll down to the 'Find your next adventure' box, type sash, and hit Enter. Trails available so far start from:

- 👉 Buckingham Arms, Shoreham
- 👉 Plough, Pyecombe
- 👉 White Hart, Henfield
- 👉 Stand Up Inn, Lindfield
- 👉 Fountain, Plumpton
- 👉 Downs Hotel, Woodingdean
- 👉 Bear, Horsham

(plus a few others slightly further afield at the Fox, Old Coulsdon and in Oxford if you're really keen!), and Drambulie has also created one in Hollingbury!

Here's a few recent reviews and pics from the Facebook group:

TBone and Little Swinger in Lindfield 9/11/20: Another 1/3 of the 6.30pm pod tried the SASH at Lindfield tonight, with good success. Only one phone as I'm waiting on an upgrade, so no audio on mine & Jas just had to check it now & then to make sure it was still talking to us! Strange look from locals when the Noddy horn sounded. We had a few false trails, plus a fishhook, but completed the route without getting too lost, near disaster when Jas nearly lost her footing in a muddy patch, hooting owl nearby, & sure the scenery would've been spectacular in daylight! We did manage a tinny outside the pub too. TB

Sticky Balls and I Need One Henfield 20/11/20:

Today we decided to give this Sashing another go.

Big thank you to Dangleberry for 'laying' this one! The White Hart in Henfield. Just under 10k. Still no peacocks. Dreadful weather from thunder, lightning and hail stones to rainbows. Mud and water up to our knees. Great route though. INO Little Swinger: Gave this one a go Monday night, got a little misplaced but picked up the trail again after a slight detour mine was just shy of 11k

Sticky Balls and I Need One Lindfield 22/11/20: Well we are really enjoying these Sash runs. Thank you so much Dangleberry. Today we were in Lindfield. A pleasant woddle through the mud and when we heard the call for Sip Stop we both looked at each other and said "bloody hell I could do with a proper pint from a local pub". Sadly, (or happily depending on how you look at it) there was only a Co-op open at the finish, so we popped in for some bottles of beer. Tempting to crack them open on the drive home but we waited! Great Sash! INO

Thumper/ Two Left Feet 22/11/20: Thank you Dangleberry for creating/ sharing the sash runs, we did the Lindfield one today and will try Plumpton next.

TBone and Little Swinger 23/11/20: So Jas & I (Little Swinger & TBone) tried the SASH at The Plough, Pyecombe, tonight & basically we've renamed this a Hash of a Hash! We lost the trail at some point, the lady stopped talking to us on ECHOES & basically we ended up back & forth on the downs & round an enclosed field, that had a stile to let you in but no visible way out! We will return to battle this one another time!, But did still do around 7k around the same ish area! TB. Definitely will do this again can't be beaten by a sash! LS

Sticky Balls and I Need One 29/11/20: Sunday Sash! We tried the Plough at Pyecombe and did slightly better than T-bone and Little Swinger (Nura Karpowitsch and Jasmine Anderson ) however I can see where they went wrong. We had an advantage as it was still light. The route across the hill was literally sheep tracks and I'm not sure we would have been quite as successful in the dark! Beautiful scenery and the tinkling of the sheep bells made for a great afternoon. Once again, thank you Dangleberry. INO

IN THE NEWS

On the Thunderball! Bond actor Sean Connery stars in a long-lost 1960 charity football line-up photo - in a team also featuring crooner Des O'Connor By ANTHONY JOSEPH FOR MAILONLINE 18/8/15 | UPDATED: 31/10/2020

By ANTHONY JOSEPH FOR MAILONLINE 18/8/15 | UPDATED: 31/10/2020

A photo has been unearthed of Sean Connery starring in a charity football match well before the introduction of Soccer Aid and regular proams. The James Bond actor, then 30, was playing alongside some big names in sport and showbiz at the time, including TV presenter and comedian Des O'Connor. The picture, which was found this week, is from August 1960 and was taken at Crawley Town's ground, Town Mead. He is said to have broken down the defence of the Sportsmen's XI on a number of occasions and even created goalscoring opportunities. The crowd were treated to a rare spectacle, as they watched the game in aid of the Showbiz Fund and the Dedham Convalescent Home for Children. The match was refereed by 1956 FA Cup final whistler Alf Bond, but there is no known record of who actually won. Dr No and Thunderball actor, Connery, has never hidden his love for the beautiful game. In his younger days, the Connery played for Fet-Lor Amateurs and was offered a contract to play for Manchester United by manager Sir Matt Busby.

and Bonnyrigg Rose in Midlothian. He was even offered a contract to play for Manchester City under Sir Matt Busby. The Scottish actor, 73, shocked many football supporters when he announced he had switched allegiances from boyhood club Celtic to their fiercest rivals Rangers in 2008. O'Connor, 83, was briefly a professional footballer for Northampton Town when he was evacuated to the East Midlands during the Second World War.

Staying with football, we say goodbye to Diego Maradona, arguably the World's greatest ever footballer.

An old photo of Diego Maradona and Nicola Sturgeon

That's neither of them.

Despite the "Hand of God" controversy, Diego Maradona and Peter Shilton developed such a strong friendship that Diego was Peter's best man at his wedding in 1997.

Nor is that!

Apparently, if you look closely you can see Diego Maradona

Gaza collects winnings after outliving Maradona

3 HOURS AGO

There, in the distance! Gazza collects the tontine.

Drug abuse, prostitution but this photo portrays one of the lowest points of his life

Correction: highest point!

Maradona's dealer don't look too happy at the news

His dealer's not happy...

To mark his passing, VAR have reviewed the Hand of God goal from the 86 World Cup and have awarded Man Utd a penalty.

... but Man Utd come out of it with something!

Whenever I get asked to do something I don't want to do, I just answer, "In a pandemic?" It's worked pretty well so far!

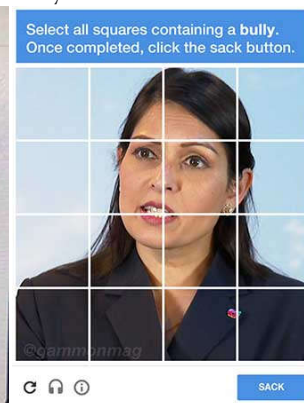

Sorry, we can't play Fairytale of New York this year, it's too offensive.

Anyway, here's Cardi B rapping about her vagina.

"You scumbag, you gammon, you cheap lousy Karen." Fixed it.

Friday night ferry to the Isle of Wight..!!!

RIP David Prowse, UK heavy weightlifting champion 62-65, one time Superman (a misunderstanding when he thought he'd been chosen, but he was being employed as Christopher Reeve's trainer!), aka 'Jack the Ripper' (a stage name when he used to tear phone books in half), and the first to establish public gyms in the UK. Also known as the Green Cross Code Man 1971-1990, Frankenstein's monster in three films, almost got the part as Jaws in the Bond films, and appeared in just about every fantasy film/ series of note including Hitchhikers Guide. And of course, Darth Vader after auditioning for Chewbacca. But not the voice, with his Bristol accent.

The Queens Christmas speech this year has been leaked online....

This is why I don't wrap gifts

Paddy asked me what to buy the kids for Christmas... "How about a jigsaw?" I replied. Couple of days later I asked Paddy if the kids enjoyed the jigsaw. "Wish to God I'd never bought it!" "Why?" I asked... "Cause by two o'clock they'd chopped off all their ruddy fingers!"

One Christmas when I was little, I asked my mum and dad for something to wear and something to play with. They bought me a pair of trousers and cut the pockets out!

A photograph of a woman's back, adorned with two red roses on her shoulders and a string of warm white Christmas lights draped across her midsection. She has a large, intricate black tattoo on her left side. The text "MERRY CHRISTMAS!" is overlaid in a stylized, outlined font at the bottom.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
